You can look up a solution from reliable sources online!
Let's do it!
Aha! I found the perfect app! I'm going to sign up. Here, if a person with a visual disability needs help, they can upload a picture, and I can send them a voice recording describing the picture or reading any writings in it!
Great job! you managed to use reliable online sources for that.
That's so awesome, Salem! I think we should take the responsibility to create a supportive space for people who might need help. Great job!
Maybe we can spread the word to other people.
We totally should!
